MUSIC

It isn't that surprising that BRUNO MARS is the A-list star that he is. After all, he was born into a long bloodline of family musicians. This Honolulu born mega star has been making music and performing since a young age. Bruno Mars aka Peter Gene Hernandez is a multi-instrumentalist, a choreographer and a record producer on top of being a chart-topping vocalist. His undeniable independent swagger and catchy lyrics have earned him no less than seven number-one singles on the Billboard Hot 100.

BRUNO MARS
TD Garden, Boston
Sunday 10/8 @ 8:00PM

Insidertip Bruno Mars likes to keep close to his roots and consistently give back to the community. He is an avid member of the Hawaii Community Foundation and has donated to multiple causes, such as the Flint Water Crisis as well as the recent earthquake in Mexico.

FUEL

A4CADE goes above and beyond being just your average speakeasy. A4cade is located through a walk in refrigerator door inside Roxy's Grilled Cheese. This hidden spot is a Millennial's mecca, boasting an impressive inventory of retro arcade games including Ms. Pac Man, Galaga and Mortal Kombat. If you are more of a hands on gamer, don't worry - A4CADE also has a slew of interactive games such as 18-foot shuffleboard, multiple skee-ball machines and enough foosball tables to satisfy an entire fraternity.

A4CADE
Open Daily
Central Square, Cambridge

Insidertip: A4cade has some of the most Instagram-able cocktails in Boston. Served in "one player" or "two player" options, drinks here are served in a variety of whimsical vessels including a giant hallowed out R2D2 and even Dr. Who's famous telephone booth.
